

WATER CANADA

Think Small, Think Big

Restoring Water in Indigenous Communities

Small System Solutions for Wastewater (page 20 and 32)

Federal First Nations
Drinking Water Regulations
at a Crossroads (page 10)

FEATURES

14 Recipe for Hope

The Safe Water Project delivers training, support, and clean water to First Nation communities.

BY GEORDI KAKEPETUM

32 Remote Control

Communal water systems may be a viable solution for remote locations and harsh conditions in Canada.

BY IRENE HASSAS

DRINKING WATER

10 Idling No More

Ottawa's progress to implement drinking water regulations for First Nations has stalled. With five years to make good on promises, the Liberals need a new approach.

BY EVE KRAKOW

WATER RESOURCES

17 Two-Eyed Seeing

Combining Western and traditional knowledge in the Northwest Territories.

BY LALITA BHARADWAJ
AND LORI BRADFORD

WASTEWATER

20 Wetlands at Work

Using tundra wetlands to treat municipal wastewater in Canada's Far North.

BY GORDON BALCH
AND BRENT WOOTTON

CONVEYANCE

24 (Not) Breaking Ground

Innovators in trenchless technologies are changing the way municipalities replace pipes.

BY TRISTAN SIMPSON

STORMWATER

26 Out of the Gutter

Municipalities are slowly shifting toward cost-recovery models for stormwater management.

BY JAMES CARELESS

COLUMNS

8 Groundbreakers

A community-based monitoring program gives the public access to water quality information in the Northwest Territories.

BY CAROLYN DUBOIS

28 Liquid Assets

Building small, sustainable water systems with new funding models and better asset management.

BY JODI GARWOOD

30 H2Opinion

Report from British Columbia's public dialogues on the Water Sustainability Act.

BY TAYLOR MARTIN

36 Rules and Regs

The need for new approaches in effluent strategies for small communities.

BY RODDY BOLIVAR

DEPARTMENTS

5 Editor's Note

Small-scale solutions and the bigger picture.

BY KATHERINE BALPATAKY

6 Front

Two book reviews on climate change on water.

38 People and Events

Jobs, awards, moves, and the latest coverage.